Respondent stipulates on February 27, 2013 he was informed via email that his 2013 professional engineer license renewal application had been selected at random for verification of reported continuing professional competency credits. Respondent also stipulates he was requested to provide documentation to the Board verifying his reported professional competency credits no later than April 1, 2013.

Respondent stipulates that in an email dated March 22, 2013 he provided a certificate verifying 11.0 professional development hours (PDH) earned for the TVPPA E & O Conference on August 4-5, 2011 and a certificate verifying 11.1 PDH earned for the TVPPA E & O Conference dated August 9-10, 2012.

Respondent stipulates that on May 8, 2013 he was notified by Board staff that the documentation provided by him failed to verify the PDH he reported on his 2012 and 2013 license renewal applications, and he was asked to provide additional documents to verify the remaining PDH. On May 22, 2013, Respondent informed Board staff via email that he was unable to provide the documentation for the remaining professional development hours he reported on his 2013 professional engineer license renewal, but he did have a certificate for 6 PDH for attendance at the PEAK Fall Engineering and Operations Meeting on October 14, 2011.

Respondent stipulates he was notified on June 26, 2013 via regular and certified mail that the Board had initiated a complaint regarding his failure to provide documents that support the professional competency credits he reported on his 2013 professional engineer license renewal application.

Respondent stipulates that on July 1, 2013 he provided documentation verifying his completion of the required 15 PDH for his 2013 professional engineer license renewal application.

Respondent stipulates he failed to provide the continuing professional competency documents when they were requested by the Board on February 27, 2013 and April 29, 2013 due to poor record keeping.
